The open-concept main floor has great flow, with wide-plank laminate floors that keep things feeling modern and easy to maintain. The living room flows seamlessly into a dining area and kitchen that's functional and have everything you need. Quartz countertops, crisp white cabinetry, stainless steel appliances, a garbage disposal (yes, it's the little things), and plenty of space to move, cook, or just gather around.

Downstairs? Fully finished and fully functional. The rec room is already wired for surround sound and a projector—hello, movie nights—and there's also a fourth bedroom and another full bathroom for guests or teens who want their space.

Additional highlights include central air conditioning to keep things cool during those summer scorches, quartz countertops in the bathrooms for a consistent touch of quality throughout, and a west-facing front porch that's perfect for catching the evening sun.

The backyard is fully landscaped and flat, offering tons of room for kids, pets, or weekend barbecues”and there’s also space in the back to build that double detached garage you’ve been thinking about.
